NEWS INDUSTRY

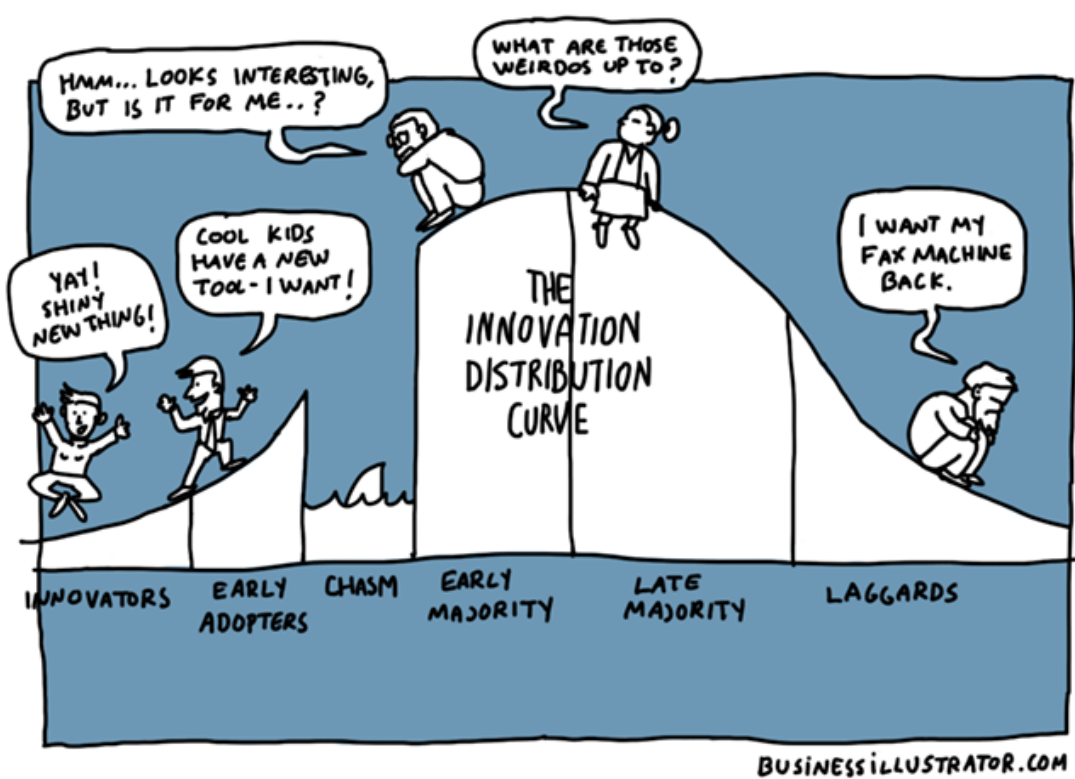

The news and media industries are challenged in credibility. Storytelling, essential to our nature, guides us towards truth. Today, AI-equipped citizen journalists are pivotal in the evolving media landscape, akin to elevator attendants reassuring early users. Elon Musk's X acquisition symbolizes this transformation, stressing the need for visionary thinking and seizing opportunities.

By joining us at BWN, you're not just witnessing history – you're actively shaping it, using the power of trusted, community-focused journalism to create positive change.

WHY NOW?

The Diffusion of Innovation curve captures this moment: a steep decline in media trust, the gig economy's rise, and AI's breakthrough. Business Women News (BWN) stands ready, our journey of patient innovation and steadfast commitment offering a unique response. We're positioned to lead in this rapidly accelerating change.

Now is the prime time for those who cherish authenticity and innovation to lead as a scout, to leave a mark, earn, and meaningfully contribute to the evolution of genuine digital content. Is this a moment for you to shine?

GET A.I. INSIGHTS

Whether you're looking to uncover new angles in your work, align your pitch with your goals, or simply increase your visibility, the BWN Insights GPT offers an innovative solution. Join us and be part of a movement that's setting new standards in professional excellence.

Angelina writes; "Our BWN GPT is leveraging both human creativity and AI's analytical strength. This produced a unique blend of insights that enhanced the video's original draft beyond its initial scope."

BWN FOUNDERS

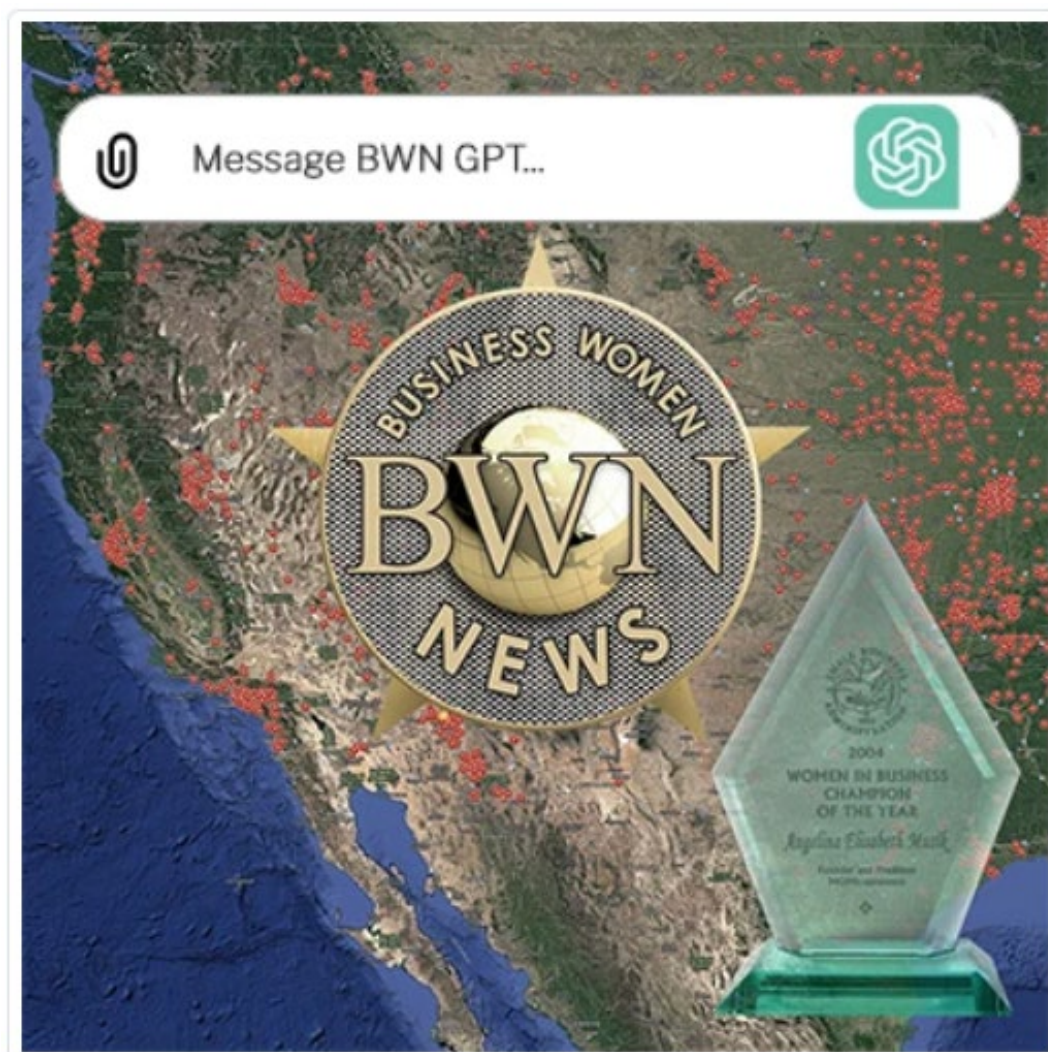

Angelina Musik's journey from immigrant teenager to renowned entrepreneur embodies resilience, turning adversity into a pathway for triumph. Daniel's evolution from a challenged innovator to the author of the Scotomaville Trilogy mirrors this persistence and depth of thought. Together, they aim to revolutionize small business news through citizen journalism.

Their alliance extends beyond mere skill combination, marking a transformative step in news dissemination and income for enterprising women-in-business.

BWN PLATFORMS

Founded in 2015 by Angelina Musik, a two-time US SBA Women-in-Business Champion, BWN excels in digital news with a focus on truth and ethical reporting. With a 100% American Veteran built syndication of 2037 websites, BWN's content distribution amplifies online visibility, with each syndicated story achieving remarkable search engine indexing.

Additionally, BWN's Insights GPT (AI) enriches user experience by offering 24/7 interactive analysis with insights of women-in-business news.

PARTICIPATION

You can engage in local journalism as BWN Scouts or Ambassadors. Participation is free for scouting. Whether you choose to work with casual spare time, or commit to full-time leadership, BWN knows the value of personal and financial reward. Imagine growing YOUR enterprise while uncovering impactful local business stories and advocating for women's achievements.

BWN's approach nurtures a culture of recognition, and empowerment, inviting everyone from seasoned journalists to engaged community members to contribute their unique perspectives.

COMPENSATION

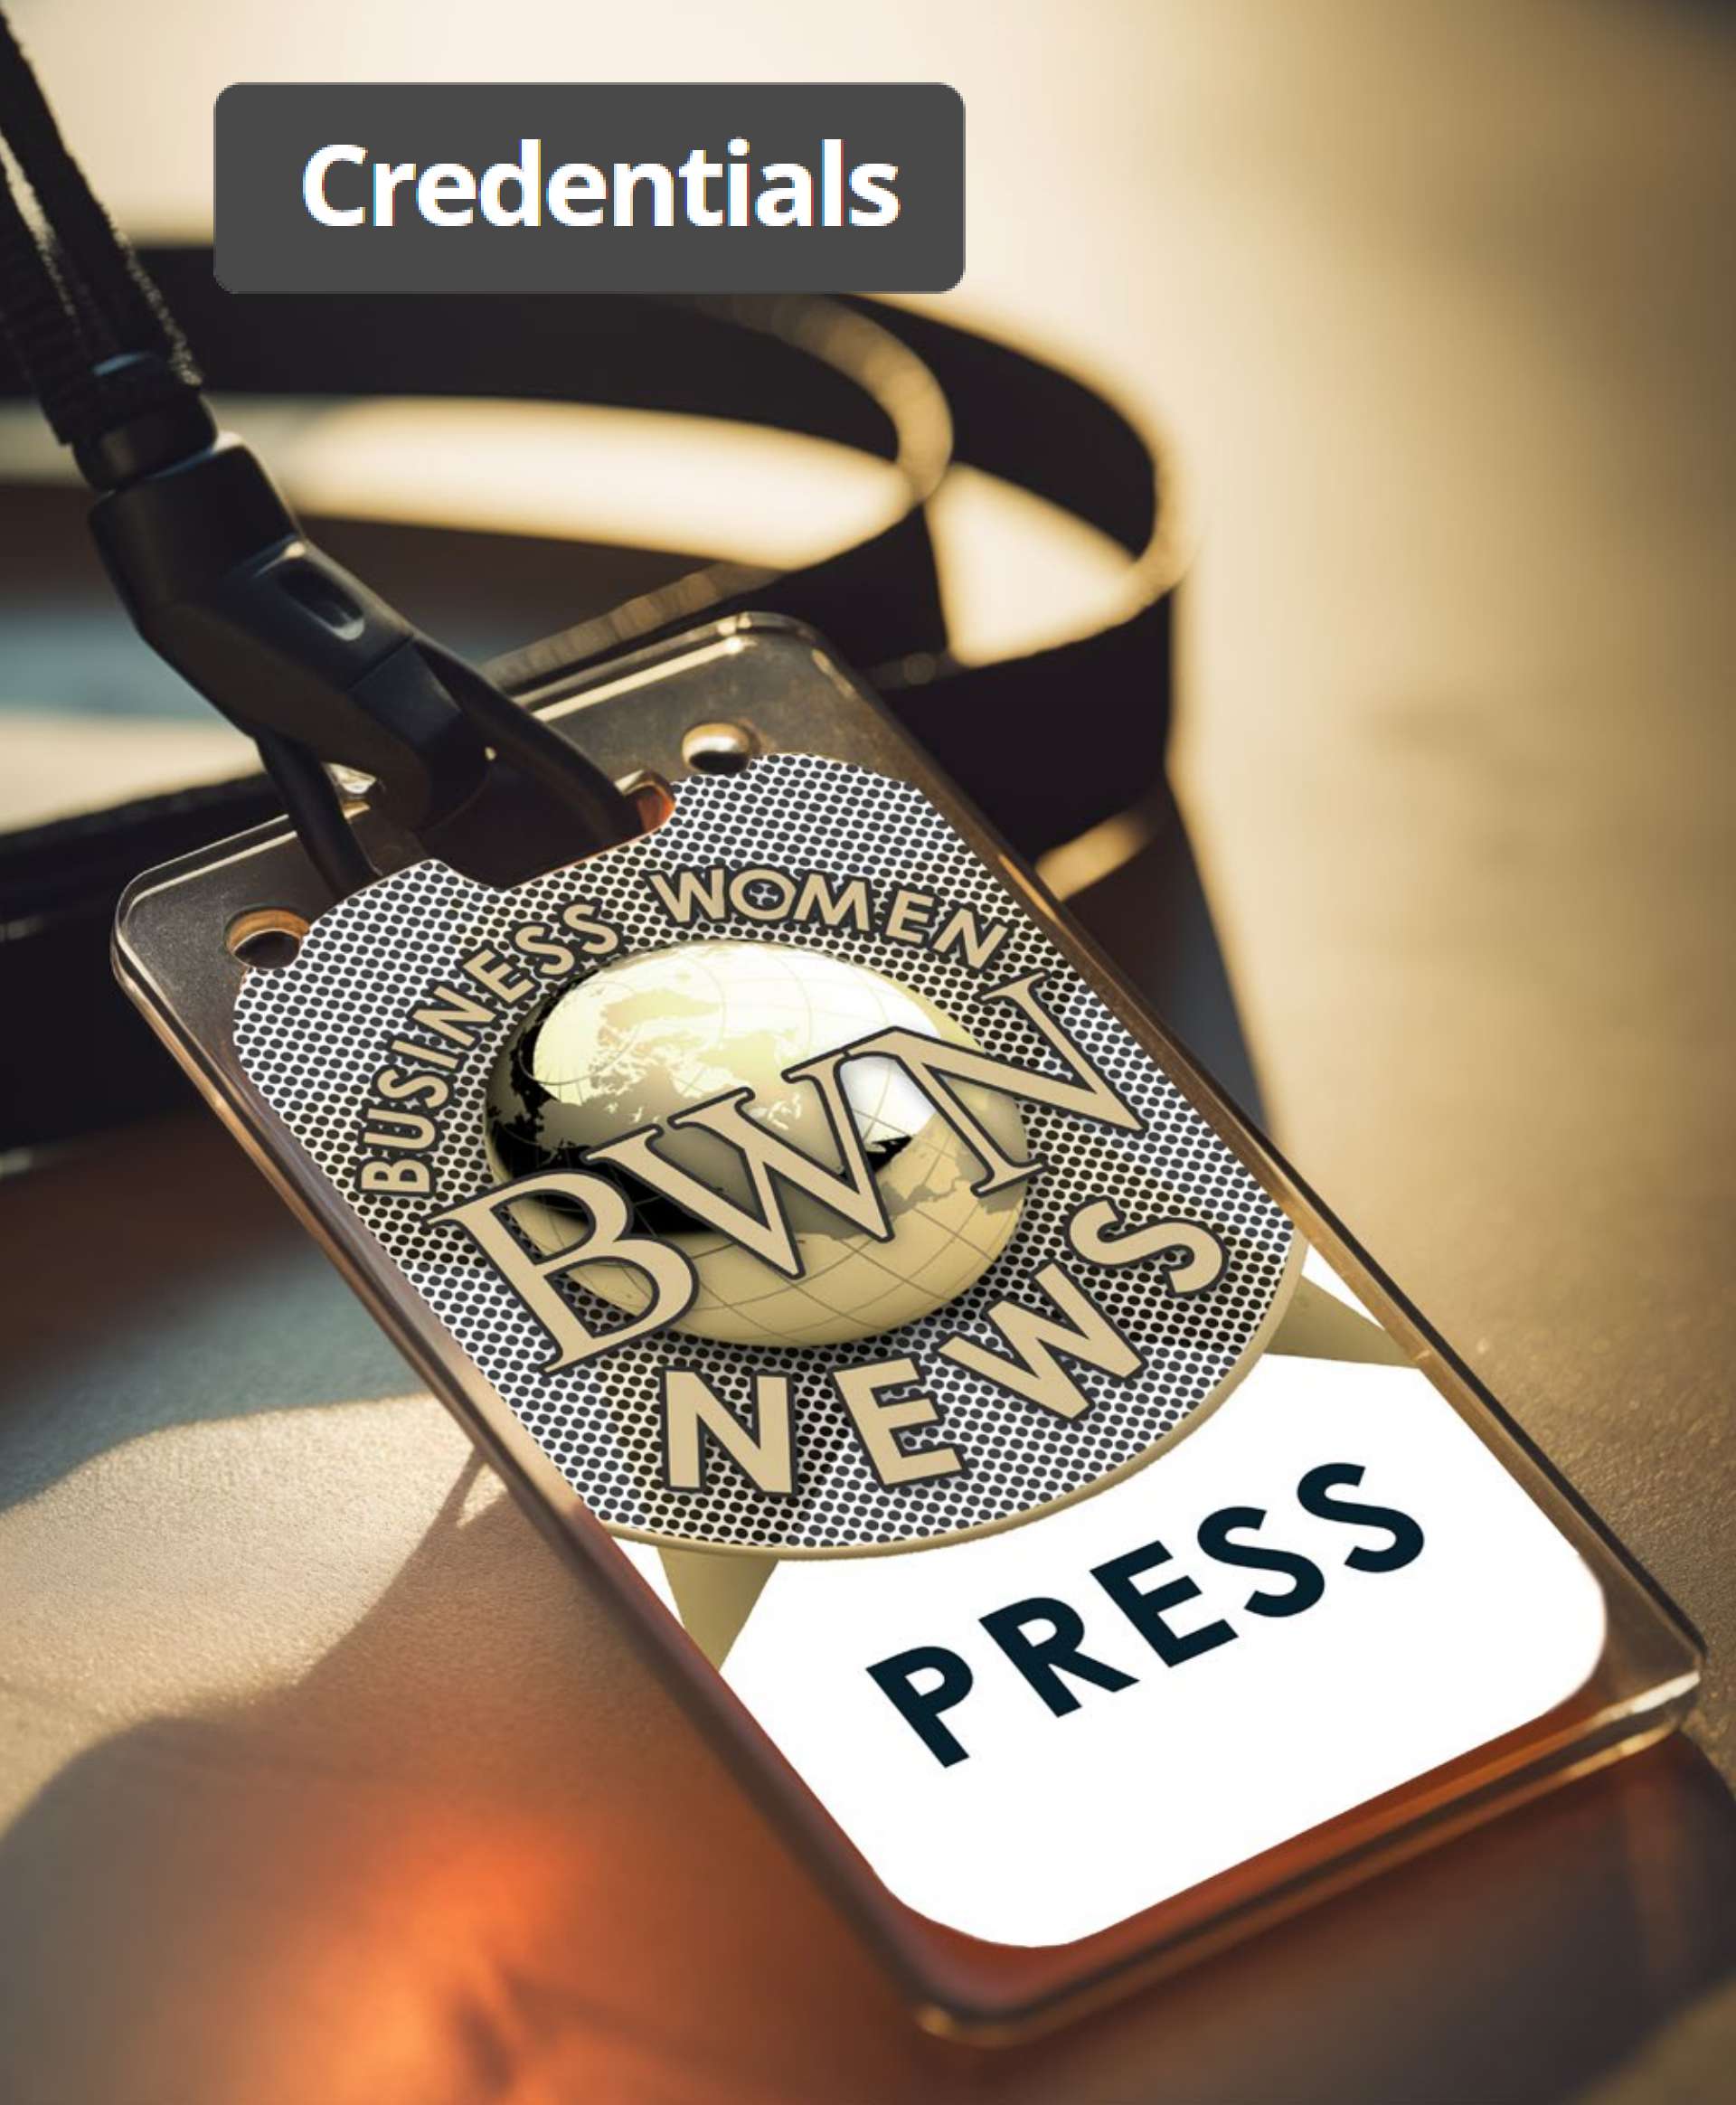

Scouts earn a 10% commission on each story they vet with a minimum earning potential of $30 each. Ambassadors, in addition to scouting commissions, benefit from a 2% commission on stories sourced by their team. The modest monthly commitment of $50 for Ambassadors covers training, website recognition and marketing, ensuring they are well-equipped to guide their teams.

The BWN compensation model encourages active community impact and team growth - without neglecting your own enterprise or responsibilities.

Credentials

These credentials are more than just identifiers; they symbolize the bearer's commitment to ethical and impactful journalism aimed at lifting women-in-business. Is that you?
